Antimicrobial resistance – Join the fight!

The children of today are the decision-makers of tomorrow.

Help educate the next generation on the risks of antimicrobial resistance by making it a topic of family conversations.

Let's take action against the silent pandemic!

Antimicrobial resistance — Join the fight!

We need to preserve our last line defense for treating antimicrobial resistant infections.

As a healthcare provider, you can fight resistance by ensuring antimicrobial medicines are prescribed responsibly and preventing their overuse.

Antimicrobial resistance – Join the fight!

Infections are hard to treat when there are limited therapeutic options.

Public health leaders can build on lessons learned during the COVID-19 pandemic on the benefits of international collaboration in fostering global innovation and developing new therapies to combat antimicrobial resistance.
